George W. Stuart has consented to give all the claims and "bad for the shed bake to be held" at Marshall Hall Wednesday, June 11. The police chiefs will first visit Mount Vernon, where they will be shown through the grounds by Supl.
Dodge, and then go to Marshall Hall where the feast will be in readiness for them.

Mrs. Richard Stiver is chairman of a committee, which is to provide entertainment for the women who will accompany the chiefs. During the week the convention is in session the rooms of the "Chamber of Commerce" will be used for the exhibition of fire arms, uniforms and other police equipment.

Additional Examination Ordered.
Owing to the expiration June 30 of the law permitting senators and representa-

Wanted—An organization in Washington for the prevention of street accidents.

That, in the belief expressed by many persons in Washington, would do much toward minimizing street accidents in the District, but so far no one of those who believe such an organization would be of the character necessary, concerted effort looking toward the minimization of accidents due to carelessness in the city streets might work great benefits.

Such an organization, it is said, might work along educational lines and along general protective lines. It might aid in spreading the doctrine among the adults and children of the city; among pedestrians and vehicle drivers, and it might even work along legislative lines, it is suggested.

Educative Work Started.
Much educative work already has been started and is progressing well, it is said, but the need of further work along this line and others is being evinced daily.

"Street safety," said one man, who recently spoke in favor of such an organization, "is a matter of the utmost importance. It means lives and limbs saved as well as property losses. It is not a fad, but a necessity. To me it is a wonder that some one has not started such an organization before. Something must be done if not now, at a later date. I believe an organization started now might be the means of saving many lives and sparing many persons misery and unhappiness. Surely it will take no more terrible lessons such as we have already to make concerted action in making our streets safe."

Of course, many persons are co-operating. The Star to make the streets safe. The city safe. Many people formerly careless are now guarding against street accidents. But in order that the motorists be compelled it will be necessary to reach and call forcibly to the attention of every individual the need of care in using the city streets.

Care Matter of Duty.
It has been pointed out that the use of care on the city streets is not an optional matter, but one of duty, as the individual who is not careful lays not only himself open to accidents, but others, who, from force of circumstances, may not be as well protected as he is.

Evidence of the difference between care and carelessness was easily apparent at the intersection of H street northwest with the Avenue of the Presidents.
When a reporter of the Star visited that point yesterday, in nearly every case vehicle drivers during the time of observation did not only use greater safety and care, but traffic was greatly facilitated. The drivers in almost every instance at this point slowed down their machines, and in turning to the left made the wide circle prescribed by the traffic regulations.

One case of almost wanton careles-ness was witnessed on F street northwest yesterday. A man in an electric automobile came down the street at a fast rate, considering the crowded conditions. He quickly threw on the brakes at a crossing—the point where by law they were given the right of way—the man simply sounded a warning note and rode past them without slackening speed. They were forced to back upon the curb in order to keep from being struck. A moment later, however, a large touring car crossed in front of the electric machine with its sole occupant. He quickly pushed the brakes and slowed down, apparently fearful of a collision.

AUTOS IN COLLISION.
An automobile operated by A. H. Van Buren of the Columbia Theater yesterday afternoon collided with a wagon in charge of Edward Joyce, owner of 16 14th street southeast. The accident happened at 10th and F streets northwest and the boy was thrown from the wagon and injured. The boy was taken to a physician's office in the automobile.

Alexander H. Austin's automobile yesterday afternoon collided with a street car in front of 1509 H street northwest.
Mr. Austin, who resides at 1014 22d street northwest, was operating his machine when the accident occurred. He escaped injury, but his automobile was damaged.

ARRESTED FOR VIOLATIONS.
Alleged Breakers of Traffic Regulations Deposit Collateral.

Charged with operating his automobile past a street car while it was stopped for passengers at 9th and F streets northwest, a driver on a charge of violating a traffic regulation. It is charged the huckster obstructed the rear of 215 12th street southwest, was arrested by Policeman J. W. Kidwell.
Bass deposited $5 collateral at the first precinct station for his appearance in the Police Court tomorrow morning.

Michael Devita of 2014 G street southwest, a huckster, was arrested last night by Policeman W. F. Miller of the first precinct on a charge of
rear of 215 12th street southwest, was
arrested by Policeman J. W. Kidwell.
first precinct station for his appear-
morning.

Machines Are Damaged in Accidents of Yesterday.

Trouble with the steering gear of the automobile of Dr. Louise Ross, 1801 Calvert street northwest, resulted in the car bumping against a fire plug and tree at Ontario road and Euclid street yesterday afternoon. Dr.
Ross was not hurt, but the automobile, fire plug and tree box were damaged.

Car 639 going south on 8th street yesterday afternoon collided with car

WEATHER.
Cloudy and Cooler, Probably Showers Today; Monday Cloudy.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland, cloudy and cooler, probably showers Sunday. Monday cloudy; moderate variable winds, becoming west and northwest.

The disturbance that appeared at the beginning of the week on the Pacific coast and thence slowly eastward has finally reached the Atlantic states, and it will pass off the coast during Sunday. During the last twenty-four hours it caused showers in the region of the great lakes, the Ohio valley, Tennessee and the east gulf and south Atlantic states. In all other parts of the country, except the north Pacific coast, where there were showers, the weather remained fair.

Temperatures continue high along the immediate Atlantic coast, and they have fallen in the east gulf states, Tennessee, the Ohio valley and the lower lake region. Much warmer weather prevails over the plateau and Rocky mountain regions, and a change to higher temperature is in progress over the plains states and the Mississippi valley.

There will be showers throughout the middle Atlantic and New England states and the lower lake region, followed by fair weather Monday in these regions.
In all other parts of the country the weather will be generally fair Sunday and Monday.

The temperature will be considerably warmer Sunday in the Atlantic States and the far northwest, and it will rise Sunday in the plains states, the Mississippi valley and the east gulf states and Monday in the Ohio valley and the lake region. Temperatures above the seasonal average will continue Sunday and Monday throughout the Rocky mountain region and the plateau regions.

The winds along the New England coast will be moderate south, shifting to west and northwest; on the south Atlantic coast moderate variable, becoming west
and northwest; on the south Atlantic coast moderate variable, mostly west; on the gulf coast light variable; on the lower lakes moderate north and northwest; on the upper lakes light to moderate variable.

former Secretary of State John W. Foster and others are scheduled to make brief addresses. Rev. J. Milton Waldron will preside.

Citizens to Buy at Wholesale.
Residents of Virginia Highlands have hit upon a novel plan to reduce the cost of living, at least as far as they are concerned. A citizens' association, composed of the twenty-five families living in the suburbs, has been organized. The plan is to subscribe for their supplies at one time, and in this way obtain household commodities at wholesale prices.

Named for Education Board.
The Minnesota Avenue Improvement Association yesterday forwarded a letter to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia recommending the appointment of Rev. George M. Cummings, pastor of the Garden Memorial Presbyterian Church, as a member of the board of education, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Henry P. Blair and Ernest H. Daniels. The association feels that a man from the eastern section of the District should serve on the board of education.
